

Hawk Talk – Tuesday, September 29, 2020

Hawks: Congratulations to Mrs. Greaver, our Math and AVID teacher, and Mr. Levesque, our PE teacher, on their well-deserved retirements. Mrs. Greaver's last day at Hillview is today and Mr. Levesque's last day will be tomorrow. They have made a huge impact on so many students and families lives and will be missed by all.

Students: This Friday, October 2nd, is a minimum day. You will need to follow the minimum day schedule that was sent out last month.

Students: There was a change made at the beginning of the school year and Monday and Tuesday of next week, October 5th and 6th, are scheduled school days. Please remember that you are required to log in to all of your classes these days.

Hawks: Happy birthday to Hillview students celebrating their birthdays this week: Ethan B., Ryan B., Ryker F., Gregory G., William J., Lilly M., Isabella M., Anthony M., Isaac M., Robert N., Louie N., Julian O., Charlotte O., Katie P., Criss P., Elizabeth S., Maxwell S., and David W.

Students: If they have not yet done so, please remind your parents to go to their PowerSchool parent account and update all of their contact information

PREJUDGING

Former President Harry Truman once said:

I have fought all my life against prejudice and intolerance.

What does it mean to be prejudiced? Well, we've all heard the saying:

You can't judge a book by its cover.

Every...single...one of us has the right to be accepted and understood as an individual, not as a member of a race or an economic condition or a religion or a club.

Today, let's follow the example of Harry Truman and work toward breaking down barriers of prejudice.
